SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT 5, 1863

Slaves not Fit for Freedom

According to the dispatch published this morning, Jeff Davis has decided, after conference with the Governors of the rebel States, to enlist five hundred thousand negroes in his army, giving them as compensation, their freedom and fifty acres of land when the war is over How sadly reduced must the pitiful Confederacy be! It failed to secure the aid of England or France—its Indian allies have deserted it, and and now in its extremity and despair it cries out for help from its slaves—it seeks an alliance with those whom it has abused, oppressed and despised. It promises freedom and land to negroes, whom it has for generations declared were unfit to be free, could not take care of themselves if free, and must not be trusted with the privileges that belong to freemen. Now all this is changed The perils that hang over and threaten the rebels with ruin, force them to acknowledge the abominable falsehoods they have told—to confess that without the help of negroes they are powerless, and to admit that slaves are fit to be free, and can take care of themselves, after they have taken care of their masters Ah, this war is teaching to the South, some strange and solemn lessons it is extorting from it some extraordinary confessions it is preparing a highway for humanity which no man's imagination conceived of two years ago! What becomes of the boastful theories about the necessity of a servile race to give dignity to the master, when the former is offered freedom and is made equal to the master, if it will fight his battles? Where all the fancy pretences which apologists for slavery have been blowing forth for years—and what if the slave should conclude, as he learns his consequence, that if his master wants his services, he and his own wife and children want them more, and will not wait for them "till the war is over?"

But it is needless to consider these questions Jeff. Davis will never enlist half a million of slaves in support of the rebellion. Long before a tenth of that number is enrolled, his work of iniquity will be over, or if not, even that number will be such a source of alarm and anxiety as to make it more dangerous to the conspiracy, than to the Union It will be the net and the pitfall in which his feet will be caught, and his own servants, becoming his masters, will bind him and bear him away to deserved and signal torture and punishment

The Capture of Fort Sumter.

This result has justly been more earnestly welcomed than any other accomplished by the nation's power, for that Fort was the property of the United States, built by their order, with their money, and was basely stolen from their control in 1861 Of course, the patriotic spirit and self respect of the country could not permit the theft to be unrevenged, or the robbers to go unpunished South Carolina, by its own act repudiated the pretense that the South simply desired to be "let alone," for without a shadow of claim to a part of the property of the Union, her citizens assaulted and captured Sumter from the possession of Major Anderson, the authorized agent of the whole country to defend it as a part of the property of the whole country By that assault, they declared their purpose to be, not self-defense, but aggressive war, and compelled the Government to take measures to save itself and its sovereignty from the mad and lawless designs of rebel invaders From that time, the nation keenly felt the insult, the unprovoked blow at its integrity, and has ardently longed for the tidings that it again holds its own, and that its starry flag, once more on the battered walls of Sumter, tells the world that there is power in the United States to protect themselves and to rescue their property, when stolen, from the bloody grasp of the robber

That intelligence has come at last, and every loyal heart beats more proudly and gratefully—the whole country feels that a great work of justice has been accomplished, and looks hopefully forward for the speedy punishment which must surely follow the recapture, and cover with blood and ashes and merited woe, the home of the revolutionists and lawless invaders who devised the conspiracy and put it in force by the seizure of Fort Sumter.

They Don't Like Retribution — The Charleston Mercury accuses the Federal army which is about to restore its city to obedience to the laws, of being urged on by devilish hate, and of coming "with the avowed purpose to sack our homes and plow our streets with his round shot" Can the Mercury inform the world what kind of spirit it was that urged its fellow rebel citizens to bombard Fort Sumter and for hours to imperil its heroic garrison "with mortar and petard?" When they have sown the wind of war they should not whine and fume when the harvest of death is about to be gathered Charleston "opened this bloody struggle," as the Mercury confesses, and in the hot bed of the rebellion should its last smouldering ashes be extinguished.

Fernando Wood's Policy —George Wilkes says he has no hesitation in the expression of his belief that the most sanguine patriot in the land has not had more complete confidence from the beginning that the South would be subdued and the Union triumphantly restored over the ruins of the insurrection, than his friend, Fernando Wood, for the very reason that patriotism is too plenty to be valuable While the Generals of the Federal army will necessarily appropriate all the available popularity on the Federal side it behooves the mere politician to look elsewhere Thus reasons Wilkes in explanation of Fernando's peace attitude

The South is to be conquered" says Fernando to himself; "but when conquered it will not be extinguished It will necessarily be restored to an equality of rights with the North In two or three years after the reconstruction we will again be a homogeneous people, but there will be eight entire millions who, with one compact heart and soul, will feel grateful for my services They may not esteem me as good as one of themselves but the prizes of the country must be divided between the two sections, and when a Northern man is in the field and must have a preference, their vote will be for me More over there is not a State, that when the war is over will hesitate to give me a lottery grant, if I desire it, and that alone is worth a million dollars I mean to make money out of this war, and if necessary, I shall not object to go even to Fort Lafayette to perfect my title for Southern suffrage after the war is over"

Progress of the California Railroad Survey —We have received the following note from Col Belden, and doubt not that its contents will be of interest to our readers

In Camp, on Siskiyou Mountains
August 21st, 1863

Editor Oregonian

I joined the Survey of the California and Oregon Railroad route at Yreka From Yreka to Klamath river the route is over an easy country for a railroad, but the Siskiyous are rough I have found a route, however from the Klamath river to the summit that is practicable, with grades less than the Baltimore and Ohio high grades and with a curvature not exceeding the limit mentioned in the Pacific Railroad bill An easier crossing of these mountains will probably be found to the eastward of this "Pilot Rock Pass," by crossing the Klamath some 10 or 15 miles above Dewitt's Ferry and passing down on the northern side by the valley of Emigrant creek Our party is a large one, and well provided in every respect The easy parts of the route, like Rogue river valley portions of the Umpqua valley and the valley of the Willamette can be passed over rapidly, while this mountain, the Grave creek hills, the Canyon and Pass creek will occupy considerable and require careful examination. The Siskiyous alone will occupy us three or four weeks

By and by I will write you of the progress of the Survey more fully Yours truly,
Geo H Belden

Misrepresentation.—Dr Henry, in his comments on Mr Harding's letter, stated that "the President in his reply to the Albany Committee, very clearly manifests his regret that the arrest was made"

The President said this "It gave me pain when I learned that Mr Vallandigham had been arrested—that is, I was pained that there should have seemed to be a necessity for arresting him—and it will afford me great pleasure to discharge him, so soon as I can, by any means, believe that the public safety will not suffer by it." As no discharge has yet been made, it is pretty certain that the President thinks it would, if granted, cause the public safety to suffer, and if the public safety is preserved by the continuance of the arrest, it is difficult to see how the President could regret that it was made We think no one but Henry has discovered the clear manifestation of such regret and he has only found it—lying round loose.

A Rothschild on the Rebel Loan —Rev Dr. McClintock writes from Paris to the Methodist

I believe I mentioned in my letter from Frankfort, last week, the fact that the rebel loan is not allowed to be quoted on the Stock Exchange there Apropos of this a good story was told me in Frankfort A gentleman was transacting some business with the Frankfort head of the house of Rothschild After the business was finished, the conversation turned to American affairs "How is it," asked the stranger, "that the Confederate loan is not quoted in Frankfort?" "Because we will not allow it to be quoted" was the reply "But why not?" "Because we do not believe in the loan, and because we do not believe in the cause" "But the loan was negotiated here by the house of Erlanger" 'Yes,' replied Rothschild, "but you do not find it held here, to any extent, except by that house No Jewish house of any character or wealth has touched that loan, nor will they touch it" I tell the story as it was told me

Heard from His Sweetheart.—A couple of years ago, a young printer, an acquaintance of ours, was driven from a town in Southern Kentucky, because of the Union sentiments he expressed in his paper The other day he received a letter from an old friend living there It delighted him Said he "I never felt so good in my life it tells all about my sweetheart, where she is and everything My printing office has gone to the lowest regions of h—ll, though It's the first letter I've had for twelve months—tells all about my sweetheart The military use the printing office for a headquarters and the type has gone to the d—l I'm all right though—tells about my sweetheart My friends are dead, four or five of my very particular friends Some of them are in the Confederate and some in the Federal army, but it tells all about my sweetheart you bet your life I don't care a d—n for the printing office, no how, a one horse country printing office The best man in that town is dead—used to edit the paper for me—(pause) —but it tells all about my sweetheart, where she is and everything —Dubuque Times

Terrible Conflagration —Dispatches to the California papers state that a destructive fire broke out in Virginia City last week Friday which consumed seventy buildings, mostly residences It was checked before it reached the business part of the city though not till the estimated loss amounted to over $300 000 It was supposed to be the work of an incendiary, and two persons suspected were arrested After the fire was entirely suppressed a firemen's fight occurred between Engine Companies Nos 1 and 2. John Cullen, of No. 2 shot Edward Richardson, a miner, through the lungs, killing him instantly Cullen was arrested About fifteen men were slightly, and half a-dozen badly injured

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to August 29th.

San Francisco, August 30th —Dispatches state that should Charleston be taken, Gen Butler will be placed in command

Since [illegible] White's guerrillas crossed the Potomac at White's Ford yesterday and gobbled up about forty of our men and a number of teams belonging to the Ohio and Chesapeake Canal Company

Fortress Monroe, August 29 —A dispatch from Newbern says that on the morning of the 17th a large sloop of war with ten guns and flying the British flag, swept past the blockade and immediately after hoisted the rebel flag and passed into Wilmington This is the fourth vessel of war that has run the blockade within six weeks

Rebel papers received at Morehead City say that Jeff Davis decided, after a conference with the Governors of the States to call out 500,000 negro troops who are to receive their freedom and fifty acres of land at the end of the war

Trenton N J, August 29 —Volunteering in this State proceeds busily It is thought that the quota will be filled in a few days thus doing away with the necessity of a draft

New York, August 29 —Bermuda news to the 20th received The rebel steamer Gladiator has arrived there The rebel steamer Robert Lee reports being chased by a Federal cruiser for three hours and she was compelled to throw overboard 300 bales of cotton in order to escape The Florida was seen on the 26th with a ship in tow, in latitude 35, longitude 67

The National Intelligencer publishes a letter from a gentleman who has traveled through Virginia Georgia, North Carolina and Alabama He says that should a proclamation be published offering freedom to those laying down their arms great good would come of it

St Louis August 28th —Persons arriving from the Kansas and Missouri border represent that the excitement continues The exasperation of the Union people against the Secesh knows no bounds There has been already much destruction of the property of Butternuts. Many Secesh lives have already been offered up on the altar of the country That region which is infested by the most treacherous enemies of the Union is doomed to utter desolation and depopulation

Practical Equality —A correspondent of the Red Bluff Independent gives this illustration of the equality which a negro hater undertook to establish between himself and a darkey, though he could not make it win

Copperheads here are terribly exercised about negro equality I told one of 'em the other day that I thought their party had nothing to fear from it It was the nigger that had the right to complain I left that copper cuss scratching his head, evidently trying to get the point in

Now much of this talk has been listened to by Anderson, who has a fruit stand near the Express Office, and Anderson being of the African persuasion, and a man of thrift, has coin about his person, a fact known to Copperheads and gentlemen of business Last night as your correspondent was wending his way home, this man of ebony here hailed him on the sidewalk, and the following conversation took place

Darky—"See here, Mr. Veracity, you know how dese Copperheads talks about nigger 'quality, and dat de niggers aint nobody no how"

We nodded our head in sage assent

Darky—"Well sir, dere is one ob dem same men dat's been a talkin' dat way is a candidate on de Copper ticket for County Clerk, I herd him a talkin' dat way, an toder day he come to me an he say, 'Mr Anderson, I want to see you.' I step out and den he say, 'Mr Anderson, has you got a couple hundred dollars?' I say, 'yes sir, I se got two hundred dollars' Den he say, 'Mr. Anderson, I shall have some money from below in two or three days, and till dat time I would like to get two hundred dollars.' Den I say, 'well sir, I'se got de two hundred dollar as I tol' you, but I don't want to lend 'em, sir' Now, Mr. Veracity, what you tink ob nigger 'quality now, sir?"

We smiled, nodded our head in a dignified Union manner, and queried, "are you sure the gent said Mr Anderson all the time?"

Darky—"Fore God! sar, he said Misser Anderson ebry time."

A Conflict and Union Victory —An ex Senator from the State of New Jersey, [J. W Wall] who has visited both the United States Senate and Fort Lafayette since the beginning of the war, was punished at the Delaware Water Gap last week for giving utterance to some objectionable, not to say treasonable, expressions relative to the war — When the news of the Union successes in Charleston harbor reached the hotel there was much joy, and among the jubilant party was a gentleman who is largely interested in the glass trade in Kensington He was rejoicing over the good news and congratulating his friends on the intelligence when the ex Senator stepped up and volunteered the intelligence that it was a 'd—d Abolition lie' The glass man intimated to the speaker that it would be time enough for him to offer his opinion when he was addressed Upon this the ex Senator struck the Philadelphian a blow with a cane which had been presented to him by his Fourth Ward admirers in this city The party who was struck does not belong to a class to quietly submit to caning, so he practically set to work and gave the ex Senator so sound a thrashing that the latter was put to bed, and was glad to remain there for a time! The next day he retired from the 'Gap' in disgust leaving his cane behind The gold headed article was subsequently sent by express to its Copperheaded owner, and so ends the story of this latest victory of Union arms —Philadelphia Inquirer

Taking the Oath —The Judge, in his last Portland letter to the S F Bulletin, tells the following story upon some hard shell Democrat in this State, which is new to us, and worth repeating to our readers, (excuse us, Judge, this quotation does not violate our agreement):

"An old hard shell Democrat, learning that the patent for his land had arrived at the land office, and that he would be required to take the oath of allegiance before he could claim it, declared that it might rust in the land office that he would never be coerced — However, after a time, the old man took counsel of his worldly wisdom, and going to the office, kissed the Book and received his parchment Upon his return home his neighbors curious to hear the result, gathered round him, and soon learned that he had taken the Lincoln oath! Thereupon some of the jocose among them began to taunt him with backing down, getting weak kneed, etc The old man listened to them awhile, and then exclaimed with an air of triumph, 'O! of course I took the oath, I hope you don't think I couldn't take it Why that there Abolition Lincoln government aint smart enough to get up an oath that I can't take'"

Our Silver —A boy recently sold a paper to a gentleman in front of the Planter's House St Louis and a five cent piece was handed him He took it, looked curiously at it a moment, and then in his innocence, told the gentleman he couldn't take it—it wasn't money to him. The person purchasing had to procure a postage piece before he could procure a paper.

Said Adjutant Cummings, who belongs to a Mississippi regiment, and whose brother, Major Cummings, was captured by General Grant at Vicksburg, referring to our treatment of prisoners, "If I am ever wounded again, I shall have no hesitation in surrendering to your forces, for I have been treated much better than I would have been in a Southern hospital" The rebels all seem to have but one idea about their currency, and that is that it is utterly worthless One part of their scheme was to circulate large quantities in Pennsylvania, thinking that "where the treasure is, there the heart would be also," would be true regarding the Pennsylvania Dutchmen But the Dutchmen could not see the treasure Rebel surgeons have been most singularly remiss in their attentions to their own wounded, leaving most of the surgery to our surgeons Only about eighteen rebel surgeons were left on the field, and these are stupidly ignorant and lazy class of men — When asked to do anything they seem to stand back as if bewildered at our superior medical, surgical and sanitary arrangements, [illegible] even doubted the possibility of aiding in [illegible] work Dr Hammond says 300 rebel surgeons ought to have been left on the field to care for their wounded

A Free Press in Eastern Virginia —The Virginian, published at Norfolk, is a journal devoted to the cause of the Union and free labor. The Virginian was started but a few weeks ago as a semi weekly, and is now to be issued daily A correspondent in Norfolk writes.— "Slavery is dead in this part of Virginia— even if peace should be established to-morrow and Fernando Wood dictate the terms Yankee immigration has already set in, and merchants from New York, Philadelphia and Boston transact nearly all the business in Norfolk and Portsmouth"

After the hard fought battle of Waterloo, when success was hopeless, the great Napoleon threw himself back in his carriage, and was soon lost in reverie, and flying from the battle field as fast as four fleet horses could carry him The fate of Europe depended on that day's fight, and the fortune of war had gone against him Nevertheless, Heuston, Hastings & Co, of Montgomery street, corner of Sutter, San Francisco, are selling the best made clothing to be found in the State, and it is really worth the while of everybody to give them a trial

RETURNED PROSPECTORS. — Messrs. John McCraken, T. A. Davis and Capt. Myrick, of this city, and Messrs. Holmes, Hedges and Kelly, of Oregon City, have just returned from a prospecting tour in the Cascade mountains, on the head waters of the Mollalla, from whence they have brought a number of specimens supposed to be rich in silver ore. Mr. McCraken informs us that he will have these specimens assayed and furnish us with the result for publication. He says that there is a creek near the place where the ore was found, which more or less salivated every one who drank from it—an indication of the presence of cinnabar ore, from which quicksilver is melted.

TREASURE.—About 100 pounds of gold dust was brought down on the steamer Julia last evening, by Wells, Fargo & Co. A large amount also of the precious dust was in the hands of passengers, variously estimated at from 600 to 800 pounds.

RETURNED.—The steamer Julia was crowded yesterday evening, with returned Boiseites, among whom are many of our old residents, most of whom, no doubt, have made their fortunes.

SYNAGOGUE.—The Rev. Dr. Eckman will preach at the Jewish Synagogue, in the German language, this morning at 10 o'clock.

THE ONE-TO-FIVE BRAG.—The Memphis-Grenada-Jackson-Atlanta Appeal, fugacious, mendacious and veracious, says, after a plea for a "war of protracted defense:"

"Within the past twelve months, elements of discord, discontent and division have sprung up in the North to such an extent that the anti-war party has become respectable and formidable, and bids fair ere long to overwhelm the Lincoln Administration and hurl it from power. This is not the least important result of the war's prolongation. The unity of the North has been effectually broken up, and this of itself was full compensation for all the reverses we have sustained.—If we are discreet in the future, and devote our energies to the destruction of the army which Lincoln now has in our territory, it is our conviction that the peace party will do most of the fighting that will be required to terminate the war after that. To say that we cannot drive the enemy from our borders is a humiliating confession, and degrading to our character as a people. In able bodied men we outnumbered their forces on our soil three to one, and all that is wanting to drive them from our country, or bury them beneath its soil, is resolution, courage and determination."

The ancient Southron boast of five Yankees being only equal to one Southron has come to naught, and aggressive warfare is no longer urged. It now remains for a patriotic people, united and determined, to show how this is the last hope of the shipwrecked ...

WHAT THE GETTYSBURG REBELS THINK.—Dr. Vollum, U. S. Medical Inspector, has just returned to Washington from Gettysburg and gives a most interesting statement of the condition of Union and rebel wounded, the feelings of the rebels, etc. He says that they seem to look upon their captivity as a happy lot. The first question universally asked our surgeons is "What are you going to do with us?" On receiving the reply that our Government will undoubtedly return them to the South, they almost invariably express a desire to remain in the North. A drill sergeant and corporal reasoned with Dr. V. thus: "If you send us to the South we will be forced into the army, and will have to fight you again. Our cause is hopeless; you have the Mississippi and with it you have our homes. Now, if the government of the United States will protect us, we desire to return to our homes in Mississippi. They all seem to have great fear of the leaders, and talk frequently of protection from their tyranny. The spirits of many are broken and all manhood has departed. They go around and talk like ruined men—ruined by the most fearful and crushing tyranny, compelling them to fight in a ... cause.

Said Adjutant Cummings, who belongs to a Mississippi regiment, and whose brother, Gen. Cummings, was captured by General Grant at Vicksburg, referring to our treatment of prisoners, "If I am ever wounded again, I shall have no hesitation in surrendering to your forces, for I have been treated much better than I would have been in a Southern hospital." The rebels all seem to have but one idea about their currency, and that is that it is utterly worthless. One part of their scheme was to circulate large quantities in Pennsylvania, thinking that "where the treasure is, there the heart would be also," would be true regarding the Pennsylvania Dutchmen. But the Dutchmen could not see the treasure. Rebel surgeons have been most singularly remiss in their attentions to their own wounded, leaving most of the surgery to our surgeons. Only about eighteen rebel surgeons were left on the field, and these are stupidly ignorant and lazy class of men.—When asked to do anything they seem to stand back as if bewildered at our superior medical, surgical and sanitary arrangements, and even doubted the possibility of aiding in the work. Dr. Hammond says 300 rebel surgeons ought to have been left on the field to care for their wounded.

A FREE PRESS IN EASTERN VIRGINIA.—The Virginian, published at Norfolk, is a journal devoted to the cause of the Union and free labor. The Virginian was started but a few weeks ago as a semi-weekly, and is now to be issued daily. A correspondent in Norfolk writes:—"Slavery is dead in this part of Virginia—even if peace should be established to-morrow and Fernando Wood dictate the terms. Yankee immigration has already set in, and merchants from New York, Philadelphia and Boston transact nearly all the business in Norfolk and Portsmouth."

After the hard-fought battle of Waterloo, when success was hopeless, the great Napoleon threw himself back in his carriage, and was soon lost in reverie, and flying from the battle-field as fast as four fleet horses could carry him. The fate of Europe depended on that day's fight, and the fortune of war had gone against him. Nevertheless, Houston, Hastings & Co., of Montgomery street, corner of Sutter, San Francisco, are selling the best made clothing to be found in the State, and it is really worth the while of everybody to give them a trial.

☞ In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine however done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & CO.—Gents: My wife has been troubled with Debility, and has had a constant Pain in her Side, and at times, a Pain in her Breast, which was procured from sewing. I bought a box of DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, and since she has been using them she has entirely recovered her strength, and the pain has left her. I have used them also myself, and find them a most valuable family medicine.

Andrew Jackson on Secession.—An original letter of President Jackson has been presented to the Chicago Historical Society by General Hurlbut, who remarked that it would be found "characteristic, and with some points that fit the times." We extract the following:

Nullification is expiring. Its last dying groan is just sealed by the repeal of the ordinance and laws passed by the South Carolina Convention who passed it, and hereafter nullification and secession will never be heard of, except in holding up to scorn and detestation their advocates, and particularly their prime movers. The Bloody Bill (as the nullies call the late Judicial Bill or Enforcing Bill) has put this to rest. It spoke the united sentiments of the people from Maine to Louisiana, that nullification and secession are revolutionary measures, and not political rights growing out of our Constitution or Confederacy. The natural right of man is to resist oppression when it comes. It equally belongs to communities. When they have the physical power they succeed; otherwise they will be coerced into obedience. Our Governments, both State and General, are Governments founded by the people for their own prosperity and happiness. The people are the sovereigns, and having formed a Federal and National Government for the transaction of all their national concerns, and the State Governments to regulate all their local and domestic concerns, and having pointed out by the Constitution how it is to be altered and amended, it can only constitutionally and peacefully be so altered; any other is revolution. The people being the sovereign head, they only have the right to change their Government. This is the beauty and safety of our form of Government. It is unique in itself, and surpasses all other systems ever contemplated, and as long as it is truly administered, by the General Government keeping within the pale of its granted powers, and leaving the people and the States their reserved rights, it will work well and endure forever. It is the strongest Government in the world, because it is made by the people for their own happiness, security and prosperity, and rests upon the support of the people.

Major Gen. Herron.—The officer whose name is above written, is another example of the manner in which energy and promptness in duty have been rewarded in this war.—Frank J. Herron is a native of Iowa, and is the youngest Major General in the service, being yet a few months less than 20 years of age. He was one of the first who took up arms for the defense of the Union, and he raised a regiment in his own State early in the war, and was a Lieut. Colonel at Donelson, and a Colonel at Pea Ridge, where he was taken prisoner and carried to Richmond. When he was exchanged he was sent to Washington, where his Congressman took him up, and, as Brigadiers were then being made by the score, he got a Brigadiership. The Western army has but few Generals, the brigades usually being commanded by Colonels, who also frequently head divisions; so when Herron went back to the army he ranked about all of his associates, and was soon after made a Major General for his gallant work in Arkansas and southern Missouri. He has now won new laurels by driving out a force of over 8,000 rebels who had been intrenched at Yazoo City, his own command being only 3,000 men. He had been "lucky," as the soldiers say, but is likely to be also fortunate in vigorously using the natural endowments of pluck and quickness which his Creator has given him.—Sac. Union.

M. Rouelle, an eminent chemist, was not the most cautious of operators. One day, while performing some experiments, he observed to his auditors, "Gentlemen, you see this cauldron upon the brasier; well, if I were to cease stirring a single moment, an explosion would ensue which would blow us all in the air." The company had scarcely time to reflect upon this comfortable piece of intelligence before he did forget to stir it, and his prediction was accomplished. The explosion took place with a horrible crash; all the windows of the labratory were smashed to pieces, and two hundred auditors whirled away into the garden. Fortunately none received any serious injury, the greatest violence of the explosion having been in the direction of the chimney. The demonstrator escaped without further injury than the loss of his wig.

The Rebel War Power Broken.—A letter has been received by a brother of a distinguished rebel officer and engineer, captured by General Grant at Vicksburg, wherein that officer says: "The capture of Vicksburg and our army is fatal to our cause. We can never reorganize another army in the West. The war may go on for some time with guerrilla fighting, which I think would be unworthy of the country, and which I will not approve. We have played a big game and lost. As soon as I am exchanged, I shall leave the Confederacy and the cause for Europe.—New York Times.

Who Will Buy Them?—It is reported that the rebel authorities at Charleston propose to sell at auction some colored Union soldiers captured by them during the recent assault on Fort Wagner. No doubt they are capable of such an outrage—but who is going to buy these colored soldiers? What planter will be silly enough to place a member of the Fifty-fourth Massachusetts Regiment on his plantation? A slaveholder would as soon buy one of these colored prisoners of war to cut him up and eat him, as place him in a slave gang on his plantation.

Beef Consumed by the Army.—The number of bullocks consumed by the Army of the Potomac during the time that elapsed between their march from Catlett's Station towards Fredericksburg under Burnside and their return from Catlett's Station under Hooker, was thirty-five thousand. Fresh army beef is self-transported, and the saving in transportation effected by driving cattle for army supplies is found to be equal to one and a quarter pounds per man per day.

No Deception.—A man advertises for a competent person to undertake "the sale of a new medicine," and adds that it will be profitable to the undertaker!"

Substitutes.—A gentleman is now in this city, says the Hartford Courant, who was drafted in Boston. He furnished a substitute, paying a good price, and the fellow ran off; hired another substitute, and he skedaddled. Not liking such luck, he concluded to go himself, and went before the officers for the purpose; but the Board of Enrollment threw him out on account of disability.

A POSITIVE AND SPECIFIC REMEDY

FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL

AND

DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of DIGESTION and excites the ABSORBENTS into healthy action, by which the WATERY or CALCEROUS depositions, and all UNNATURAL ENLARGEMENTS are reduced, as well as PAIN and INFLAMMATION, and is good for MEN, WOMEN OR CHILDREN.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For Weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion or Abuse,

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power,

Horror of Disease, Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion that

THE CONSTITUTION,

once affected by Organic Weakness,

Requires the Aid of Medicine, to strengthen and invigorate the system, which invariably does.

A Trial will Convince the most Skeptical.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS

Who have been the victims of Quacks

and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after marriage.

For all Affections and Diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating, and

NO MATTER OF HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs require the aid of a Diuretic.

AYER'S

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M.D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough,

SPRINGFIELD, MISS.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRAM CONKLIN

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and

WEST MANCHESTER, PA.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

HENRY L. PARKS

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours, with gratitude and regard, ORLANDO SHELBY, of Shelbyville.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.
